The New Assembly Building

Coahoma Community College celebrated its newest addition to the campus when the New Assembly Building opened for public use.

The 1993 CCC graduating class was the first class to graduate in the new facility. On Saturday, May 15, the long-time dream of the CCC faculty, Staff, and administration came to fruition.

Facing Friars Point Road and adjacent to the current Administration Building, the facility stands just in front of the Zee A. Barron Student Union.

The $3.5 million structure houses 38,000 square feet in its coliseum-like atmosphere. Fixed seating in the facility is 2,250, with an additional 1,800 stationary seating to make a capacity seating measure of 4,000.

Some of the state-of-the-art features will include a Press Box for sporting events, a sound and lighting booth for entertainment events, a special covering to protect the hardwood basketball court when the main floor area is needed for other events, and a premier cooling and heating system that regulates itself in several various areas so as to be energy and cost efficient.

Presentation of Tennessee Williams Framed Posters by Mr. Billy Farr

Ms. Dee, Dr. Presley, Miss CCC

Soror to Soror a gift from the Deltas of Clarksdale

Ruby Dee calls herself a hard worker. "Ideas too," she says, "I love language and authors and music and how it can all interconnect. As and actor I want to explore life rhythms and the sounds in the silences."

Recently she was awarded an EMMY for her role in "Decoration Day," a Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation, but she is probably best known to younger audiences for her role with her husband, Ossie Davis, in Spike Lee's "Do The Right Thing" and "Jungle Fever."

Some of her most recent works include being Mallie in "The court Martial of Jackie Robinson"; acclaimed author and player in "Zora Is My Name" at the Woody King Jr. production of Ron Milner's "Checkmates"; and at the Arena Stage in D.C. as Amanda in Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie."

Some of her favorite roles have been Lutiebelle in "Purlie Victorious" (stage and film), written by her husband, Ossie Davis; Lena in Athol Fugard's "Boseman and Lena", for which she received an OBIE AWARD; Julia in Alice Childress' "Wedding Band" for the N.Y. Shakespeare Festival (DRAMA DESK AWARD); on television al Mary Tyrone in Eugene O'Neil's "Long Day's Journey Into Night" (ACE AWARD); and Ruth in Lorraine Hansberry's "A Raisin in the Sun."

Work Force Specialist for CCC Honored

Betty Lynn Hunt, Work Force Specialist for Coahoma Community College's Industrial Training Center, was recently honored by the Public Education Forum along with 23 other people statewide for their efforts in Literacy.

Located on Highway 49, Coahoma Community College's Industrial Training Center, has been one of the major focuses for several local businesses' success stories. Now, a Industrial Training Work Force Specialist is the major focus.

Betty Lynn Hunt, a Work Force Specialist for the CCC Industrial Training Division for four years and a CCC employee for eight years, was recently honored by the Public Education Forum of Mississippi for her work in literacy training.

Rives Neblett, president of Shelby Die Casting, a company that credits the Industrial Training Center as one of its reasons for success, was on hand in Jackson to present the award to Hunt.

Although Mississippi Gov. Kirk Forkice has to miss the presentation ceremonies, several other state dignitaries were on hand to recognize the 24 honorees including Hunt. She was the only one recognized for Work Force Improvement.

Others were honored for their literacy work in the following areas: Accountability, Assessment, Math and Science, Curriculum, At-Risk Student, and Administrator/Teacher Competence.

The Public Education Forum of Mississippi originated in 1989 as a group of Mississippi business leaders banded together to promote and reform public education.

The forum realized the necessity for a partnership between educators, government leaders, and business.

Some of the celebrities on the program included Secretary of State Dick Molpus; Dr. Jeanne Forrester, Office of the Governor Education Advisor; David M. Ratcliffe; Dr. Olon Ray, Executive Director of State Board of Community and Junior Colleges; Jack Reed Sr., and Dr. Philip Terrell.

Students, Welcome to an exciting '93-94 School Year

It is indeed a sincere pleasure to welcome you to a new and exciting year at Coahoma Community College.

I hope that your summer was an enjoyable one and that you are looking forward to a successful, exciting and productive school year.

We have many exciting things which will be happening for you this year — To name a few — the beautiful and spacious New Assembly building that seats over 4,000 people will house many special events such as our team basketball games, cultural enrichment events, such as Susan Taylor, Editor-in-Chief of ESSENCE Magazine; the new recreation park across from Friends Hall which has a picnic area and basketball courts; new beds for the resident halls; and a host of student activities which are outlined in the Weekly Student Affairs Scoop.

You, the students, are our number one priority and we want your college experience to be a positive and exciting one.

In addition to the extracurricular activities, we at Coahoma place our primary attention on Quality and Excellence. That means that we really expect you to be serious and determined to do your best when it comes to your class work. We have an excellent faculty who will always be available to give individual assistance.

I know that this year is going to be a fantastic year, and I look forward to working with and serving you.

I always like to end my message with a few words of inspiration. So always remember:

Dr. Vivian M. Presley
President
Coahoma Community College

In life, there will always be many paths to follow;
May you always choose the right one.
If you give a part of yourself
to life,
The part you receive back
will be so much greater.
Never regret the past,
but learn by it.
Never lose sight of your dreams;
A person who can dream
will always have hope.
Believe in yourself;
if you do, everyone else will.
You have the ability
to accomplish anything,
But never do it at someone else's expense.
If you can go through life
loving others,
You will have achieved,
the greatest success of all.

Another Year Begins

Coahoma Community College has begun a new school year which includes a new General Assembly Building and new school officers.

New officers include Darryl Linzy, Student Government Association President; Sondra Burton, Miss Coahoma Community College; Cynthia Edwards, CCC Yearbook editor; and Jennifer Elmor, Coahoma Tribune Editor.

Linzy is the son of Carrie and Jessie Thomas of Sledge. His duties are to become associated with the students and the faculty and staff to better the college. Linzy says, "one of my hobbies is talking to people." This hobby is really required because he has to stay in contact with many different people.

The next officer is CCC's queen, Sondra Burton. She is the daughter of Beatrice and Jessie Burton and is a Real Estate major from Clarksdale. Sondra's duties are not to be pretty all the time, but to be a leader and ambassador for the college. She has to have a close relationship with the student body and faculty and staff. Her duties don't exist only on Coronation Night but everyday.

Another hardworking woman is Cynthia Michelle Edwards. The daughter of Mrs. Maudy Edwards of Quitman County, she is a Pre-Nursing major. Her duties are to work along with Ms. Jamesetta Powell and the staff to put together a yearbook of all the year's activities. Her job is quite challenging yet exciting, says Edwards.

Entering the new year with a lot of energy is Jennifer Faye Elmore, editor of the Coahoma Tribune. She is the daughter of Dorothy and Earl Elmore of Friars Point. She's an English major who wishes to pursue a career in teaching. Her duties are to join forces with Ms. Glynda Duncan, newspaper advisor, and get students aware of things going on around campus.

She says: "It is important for students to be aware of what's going on on campus and that's the job I will perform for them, letting them know about the people around them and campus life."

Homecoming 1993

“Striving for Quality and Excellence as We Enter the 21st Century”

Homecoming week at Coahoma Community College has always been eventful, and this year was no exception.

Homecoming activities were kicked off with a “Homecoming Dedication Prayer and a Gospel Explosion” in the Student Union on Monday morning; Tuesday evening, a cookout was held to feed the souls of the Mighty Tigers at the Cripus Attucks Pavillion. Wednesday morning started with a pep rally, followed by the Annual Adopt-a-Tiger luncheon, and the day ended with a faculty/staff baseball game. On Thursday, various clubs and organizations showed their Tiger Spirit in the “Homecoming Display Contest.” Later that evening the Coronation of Miss Coahoma Community College was held in the New Assembly Building. The evening closed with an unforgettable “Coronation Ball.”

Friday was dubbed “Spirit Day,” and the Tiger Spirit ignited Friday night at the Annual Bonfire.

The Big Day — Saturday morning began with an Alumni Breakfast and Breakfast with the Tigers, followed by the Annual Homecoming Parade through downtown Clarksdale. At one o’clock, an Ol’Timers game was played. The Homecoming game was played at seven o’clock. This game will not be forgotten for some time since this was the first victory in football since 1984. But, this was not the climax of Homecoming ’93; the following Monday, October 4th, 1993 was declared Coahoma Community College Day in Clarksdale. “Striving for Excellence” was certainly the aim of the Tigers during Homecoming 1993.

Breakfast with the Tigers was held in the college cafeteria under the directions of Mr. Jones. Dr. Presley, along with other faculty and staff, served students and football players.

Appreciation luncheon was held at Western Sizzlin for the Tigers. Faculty and staff enjoyed the fellowship. Dr. Presley, Antonio Lampkin, and Mr. Vasametti chat.

"As I Grew Older"

It was a long time ago.
 I have almost forgotten my dream.
 But it was there then,
 In front of me,
 Bright as a sun—
 My dream.

And then the wall rose,
 Rose slowly,
 Between me and my dream.
 Rose slowly, slowly,
 Dimming,
 Hiding,
 The light of my dream.
 Rose until it touched the sky—
 The wall.

I lie down in the shadow.
 No longer the light of my dream before me,
 Above me.
 Only the thick wall.
 Only the shadow.

My hands!
 My dark hands!
 Break through the wall!
 Find my dream!

Help me to shadow this darkness,
 To smash this night,
 To break this shadow
 Into a thousand lights of sun,
 Into a thousand whirling dreams
 Of sun!

Susan Taylor, Motivation Speaker at Academic Pep Rally

"Each of us is a divine original; each of us is an individual," lauded Susan L. Taylor, Editor-in-Chief of Essence Magazine as she spoke to nearly 3,500 students, faculty and staff, and guests of Coahoma Community College and Agricultural High School in the First Annual Academic Pep Rally held in September.

Taylor's visit was initiated by the Student Affairs Division and Dean Claudia Gooden. The event was made possible by funding from the CCC-AHS Lyceum and Cultural Arts Project.

"We have to be about what we are not doing, and that is Critical Thinking," added Taylor to her Delta audience. "What separates the 'haves' from the 'have nots' is Information and Education. And discipline is the key to success."

Approximately 500 students from area elementary and high schools in Clarksdale and Quitman, Tunica, and Tallahatchie counties were guests of CCC-AHS and had the opportunity of hearing Taylor's motivational comments.

Gooden said the academic pep rally "exceeded any expectations" she and her Student Affairs staff had imagined.

"We wanted to Focus directly on students the first six or seven weeks of school. We wanted them to be motivated, not only by clubs and organizations, but by academics." Future academic pep rallies are definitely in CCC plans.

Congressman Thompson Speaks at CCC

"Local communities must begin picking themselves up by the bootstraps. Thompson told some 100 people gathered in Georgia Lewis Theater on the Coahoma Community College campus.

Labeled "District Development Meetings," the gatherings were designed to bring Citizen's together to identify and seek solutions to major issues confronting their communities.

Similar meetings were also held in the southern, central and northern sections of the congressional district.

"We didn't come here to grind our axes. We're here to equip the people of this district with the resources and knowledge so they can begin solving their own problems," Thompson said.

Poverty in the Delta is one issue that Thompson said needs to be addressed and corrected.

"I believe the people of this district are sick and tired of being sick and tired of poverty," he said.

Six other major issues confronting the district were targeted by "out reach" forums conducted by Thompson's staff last summer. They are:

- Agriculture.
- Business and Community Development.
- Crime.
- Education.
- Health Care.
- Housing.

Those who attended the meeting divided into committees for separate discussion of issues within their respective counties.

Individual committees were formed for Coahoma, Panola, Quitman, Tallahatchie and Tunica counties.

The five counties represent the northern region of the 2nd Congressional District.

Committee members will now begin assessing community needs; seeking input from the community in each issue area; developing action plans to resolve problems; and implement the plans of action.

A complete list of county committee members for the northern 2nd district region will be supplied by Thompson's office in the near future.

Thompson stressed that his staff will work with separate committees in each county to assist them in the planning process.

2nd District U.S. Congressman Bennie Thompson (right), was at the Coahoma Community College campus Saturday to speak to some 110 area citizens who gathered to form district development committees. The committees, formed under a project initiated by Thompson's office, will begin identifying and seeking solutions to major issues facing the north Delta region.

The Baptist Student Union is a student-led, Christ-centered organization designed to enhance and inspire college students to reaffirm their commitment and dedication to wholesome living, mature behavior, and moral integrity in an immoral society. In the face of student peer pressure and the evils of drugs, violence, and illicit sex, the Baptist Student Union serves to encourage college students that one can be clean in an unclean environment and one can exemplify the fruit of love, peace, and joy when crowd pressures indicate the opposite.

The Baptist Student Union meets weekly to discuss student-related problems and student retreats, state and national. As in any organization, the BSU participates in most student-related activities, such as Homecoming and Black Emphasis Month. Any student, regardless of his or her denominational affiliation, can be a member of the Baptist Student Union.

CCC, MSU, Landscaping, and Tourism

Senior of the School of Landscape and Architecture at Mississippi State University presented their semester-long projects recently to administration and guests of Coahoma Community College along with community leaders in Coahoma County.

The student projects focused on upgrading and renovating several areas in Coahoma County besides the community college in order to promote tourism.

A year ago, CCC and MSU teamed up for a very successful landscaping plan for the college. Now that project goes one step further, utilizing the college and many aspects of the Delta in Clarksdale and Coahoma County to encourage tourism.

MSU students were divided into teams focusing on the following areas: CCC campus, Clarksdale, Friars Point, and a multimodal trail to link all three areas.

The students developed an entire marketing plan to promote tourism in Coahoma County entitled "The Delta Essence."

"The Delta Essence" marketing plan includes a logo design complete with T-Shirts and banners, actual mock-up plans of multimodal trails, land usage in all areas for special theme and recreational parks, removal of historical buildings and entire city areas, etc.

The CCC and Coahoma County visitors were introduced to the short term and long term plans of the tourism venture, noting some portions of the overall project can be implemented immediately and rather inexpensively, while other long term suggestions can be focused on in 20-25 year period.

Landscape students even provided the group with federal grant applications for specific funding for areas of the project.

A CCC and Coahoma County contingent of guests were treated to a history of the Blues.

CCC Tigers, Fans Taste Sweet Victory!!!

Tigers

Life hasn't been a crystal stairway for the CCC football team, the last 84 games but on a cold, damp night in October, that's right, October 2, 1993, the Coahoma Community College Tigers defeated the East Centra Community College Warriors 22-18 on Homecoming night. The nation's longest winless streak came to a halt. It was a game that 1,500 fans paid their money to see. Stats that will go down in history was the defense led by Dewayne Henry's five tackles, three assists and the big game deciding quarterback sacks, Brandon Rogers four tackles, and four assists.

Billy Anderson had three tackles, Marcus Evers had three tackles, Lertis Griffin, Chris Johnson, and Kenneth Harris held their own on the defensive line. After the game, it was a sight everyone had been wanting to see; players kneeling in prayer; the band played the Alma Mater, and played, and player and played. Fans carried players off the field, coaches Eubanks, Jackson, and Mitchell got drenched. This team showed class, heart, courage and most of all Tiger Pride.

Basketball _____

The 1993 hoop version of the Tigers got off to a good start for the Lady Tigers as they won their first three games to start the season. Coach Morris, who in the last dozen years has coached her Lady Tigers to a state championship, a regional championship, and national ranking, says that this team is faster on the boards and quicker with the ball than teams she's had in the last few years. Three of fifteen (15) are returning sophomores. Stephanie Johnson, Carlean Gross and Shonda Burgess are expected to start early in the season. On offense, fans can look for Tomeka Redd, Gloria Bridgenon, and Tonya Norment to do a lot of the ball handling. Only one six-footer is on the team and that's freshman, Shemetra Washington from Tallulah, Louisiana. "Washington has a good vertical leap," says Morris. From the 1992 CCC men's team, the Tigers return one sophomore. Tommy Mumford will start as forward. One of the leading scorers from last year's team, Mumford is being counted on by his coach to pump up the other fourteen (14) players.

Washington said that he is really pleased with the progress of his freshman team, and has been particularly pleased with the progress of Felix Brown, a six-two guard from Charleston. "Brown," he says, "is a complete basketball player." He has the tools to work with. "He can pass, shoot, play defense, and knows the technical point of the game better than anyone I've seen in the league in a long time." Washington believes that despite having a freshmen team, his Tigers are going to win from the start. "I know that seems like a hearty boast, but this team has just come a long way," states Coach.

History has been made as shown by the final score in Tiger Country.

Kwanzaa, Celebrated December 26-January 1

Coahoma Community College English Department sponsored a dual program focusing on traditional celebrations of Christmas and Kwanzaa.

Each year the Black Community celebrates Kwanzaa from Dec. 26-Jan. 1, as an affirmation of cultural self-determination.

Created by Maulana Karenga, Ph.D. in 1966, the celebration is the only nationally recognized African-American non-heroic, non-religious community celebration emphasizing Traditional Spirit of African Communalism.

Kwanzaa is not a Black Christmas substitute; neither is it an African holiday celebrated on the continent with the same symbols, practices, or principles.

Home decorations using Black, Red, and Green are prepared. The Nguzo Saba (Seven Principles) and the Traditional Kwanzaa Symbols which represented the concepts and practices are prominently displayed.

At the evening meal, the family comes together to light a candle and speak the Nguzo Saba principle for the day.

On Dec. 31, a Karamu (feast) is held for all, family and friends, complete with singing, drumming, dancing, and lots of food.

January 1 is devoted to the Watoto (children); they are rewarded with Zowadi (gifts) for the good deeds performed during the year. One or two small meaningful gifts may be given during the days of Kwanzaa, however, this optional, parents and adults may receive gifts, also.
